Quick arrest follows $8,000 theft

A man was arrested early last Thursday morning only one and a quarter hours after he allegedly broke into the Koorngal Golf Club, Altona.

Police allege the man still had new golfing equipment worth about $8000 in a panel van he was driving when they arrested him.

They say the breaking began about 3 a.m., was reported by the caretaker at the golf club, radio messages were flashed between police patrols and an arrest was made in Kingsville about 4.15 a.m.

The professional's shop at Koorngal was almost completely stripped, a police spokesman said yesterday.

Immediately a burglar alarm sounded, the caretaker at the club telephoned police, but the thief had left the scene.

A general alert went out from D-24, with a description of a van the alleged thief was driving.

The van was first spotted by a uniformed patrol from Williamstown police station, who took chase and notified other units in the area of their position.

An Ascot Vale crime car squad patrol, headed by Senior Constable B. G. Dunn, joined the Williamstown car in a short chase, the spokesman said.

The two patrols cornered the van at the intersection of Geelong and Somerville roads, Kingsville, about 4.15 a.m.

A man was arrested and taken to Footscray police station for questioning, the spokesman said.

All the stolen property was recovered.

A 27-year-old unemployed Albert Park man has been charged with shopbreaking and stealing, possession of house-breaking instruments, dangerous driving and speeding.

He will appear at Williamstown Court today (Thursday).

$2M. WELFARE BOOST FOR WEST REGION

Welfare work in the western suburbs will soar with the announcement of a $2 million Federal grant.

The grant, spread over three years, was announced at a meeting of the Western Region Commission in Footscray on Friday.

It has been hailed as the most progressive step since the inception of the commission.

A special sub-committee has been set up to report back to the commission on the best possible methods of using the money.

The mayor of Footscray, Cr. Bob Hall said to for assured accurate guidance on all forms of social welfare.

Cr. Clancy said, "We have our own welfare officer in our municipality but it is an impossible task for one person."

He said the centres should be centrally located and suggested Newport as the choice spot for one in his municipality.

The grant is for $20,000 in a full financial year and a further annual capitation grant of up to $705,000 for the provision of additional services.

The capitation grant is on the basis of two dollars per person for the region, which has about 352,500 people.

The commission comprises 10 western suburbs councils — Altona, Williamstown, Footscray, Sunshine, Essendon, Broadmeadows, Melton, Werribee, Keilor and Bulla.

Cr. Les Crofts of Altona said the autonomy of local government should not be affected as a result of the regional move.

"It may involve councils in a far wider range of services than they have at present," he said.

Williamstown mayor, Cr. Herbert Clancy praised the grant and said he would like to see welfare centres established in each municipality within the region.

Shoplifted when under strain

A 40-year-old man with no prior criminal convictions had stolen groceries worth $1.60 when he had been under emotional strain, a barrister told Williamstown Court last week.

The barrister, Mr. T. Casey, was appearing for Alfred Spiteri, of Waters Drive, Altona, who pleaded guilty to having stolen the goods from Sims Market, Altona North, on July 11.

Mr. J. Caven SM placed Spiteri on a 12-month good behavior bond and ordered him to pay $8 costs.

Store detective Fay White told the court she had seen Spiteri place a number of articles under his jumper and had intercepted him outside.

Asked why he had stolen the goods, Spiteri had said: "I don't know."

He had had about $13 on him at the time and had not needed the goods because he had done his normal week's shopping previously.

Constable David Keenan, who had been called to the store and had interviewed Spiteri, told the court under cross examination that Spiteri had appeared upset and ashamed at what he had done.

Mr. Casey, addressing the bench, said Spiteri was single and had come to Australia from Malta in 1955.

He said Spiteri worked as an assistant boiler-maker at the Williams town dockyards.

He said Spiteri had been under personal strain and worry when he had committed the offence.

Mr. Casey called character evidence to corroborate this.

'More than a few beers'—$170

A driver told police when they stopped him he had drunk "more than a few beers," Mr. G. Miller, SM, was told at Footscray Court last Thursday.

Stephan Halovitch, of Marion Street, Altona, pleaded guilty to charges of driving with a blood-alcohol content over .05 and crossing double lines in Buckley Street, Footscray, last May 29.

Police told the court they followed a car driven by Halovitch in Buckley Street and watched it swerve from side to side.

At the intersection with Windsor Street, the car had crossed double lines for some distance.

They smelt alcohol on his breath and asked had he been drinking and how much he had drunk.

"More than a few beers," Mr. Miller was told Halovitch replied.

He added he had been to a wedding reception.

Halovitch was taken to Footscray police station and given a breathalyser test, police said.

The reading was not given in evidence.

To Mr. Miller, a police witness said Halovitch drove for about 100 yards over the double lines.

Halovitch admitted an allegation by the police prosecutor, Senior Sergeant A. Barnham, he was convicted in September, 1971, on a .05 charge.

Mr. Miller said because there was only two years between the offences he would have to impose a heavy penalty.

On the .05 charge, he fined him $120 and cancelled his licence for a minimum of two years.

Crossing double lines cost him another $50 and suspension of his licence for three months.

ORGAN CLUB MEETS

Graham Woods was guest artist at the October meeting of the Western Suburbs Organ Club held in Pennell Hall, Braybrook.

Cy Stanney was unable to appear and Graham stood in with a varied programme on the Wurlitzer.

Numbers played included Chapel in the Moonlight, Blue Moon and Carnival of Venice.

Tom Woods presented a song segment. Both he and Graham are members of the Sunshine City Band.

'THE MIKADO' WAS A BARREL OF LAUGHS

By TELMAH

It wasn't Gilbert and Sullivan at its purest, but it was the funniest performance of this opera I have ever seen.

The audience roared to the antics of Colin Simpson as Pooh Bah and John Harris, who played Ko Ko, the Lord High Executioner.

Colin Simpson deserves the highest accolades for his Pooh Bah. He won the audience from the moment he set foot on the stage and I feel many people longed for his every re-appearance.

He injected into the role all the stiffness and self-seeking ambition of a man with a thousand positions. His delivery was first class.

The role of Pooh Bah is an enviable one and Colin could bring his character to life vividly.

John Harris' performance was not far behind Colin Simpson's. John was amusing as the blithering, dithering idiot condemned to death for flirting, but relieved to take on the duties of Lord High Executioner.

Trevor Findlay and Gaile Poole also gave fine performances.

Francis Court, to me, was most impressive as Katisha. She has acting ability and a very fine voice.

Sets and costumes are often dismissed in reviews with brief words of praise, but one must not allow that here. The sets, designed by Grahame Murphy, were nothing short of remarkable. They created an atmosphere which enabled the audience to spend two hours or so in Old Japan.

The costumes, designed especially for the production by Grahame Murphy and made by cast members were among the best I've ever seen. Ko Ko's costume and that of Katisha were outstanding.

Frank Wadds as director deserves a special mention. He had very little time to prepare this show, but you could never tell.

Worship workshop in Altona churches

The Altona Council of Churches has arranged a "Worship Workshop" over four consecutive Thursday evenings beginning on 25th October.

The aim is to enable Christians of different traditions to experience worship in a church other than their own.

Each evening will consist of a service which will be as near as possible to the normal Sunday worship of the host church, then supper and discussion.

It is hoped that in this way people will be able to clarify their understanding of other forms of worship and deepen their own worshipping life.

An invitation is extended to all who feel that they could benefit from this series.

There is no obligation to attend all services, and money for a collection will not be required.

Thursdays at 7.30 p.m.
October 25: St. Luke's Anglican Church, Blackshaws Rd., Altona North.

November 1: Methodist Church, Seves St., Altona.

November 8: St. Leo's Catholic Church, Mason St., Altona North.

November 15: Presbyterian Church, Civic Pde., Altona.

Hello Girls,

The most exciting thing has happened here at I. L. Herbert's.

We can now pass on to you our own range of beauty cleansers and moisturisers — and the price is ridiculous. Ninety-nine cents! a nationally owned cosmetic firm make this range for us — and I can genuinely recommend it.

I'll give you a brief outline of the lines.

A Cleansing Milk for an oily skin, or those who prefer a liquid cleanser.

A liquifying cleanser for sensitive skin or again, anyone who prefers to wash or tissue off their cleanser. And a good quality Cold Cream cleanser/moisturiser.

Moisturising lotion for those who need a little light cream.

Moisturising Cream — the strongest one — for a dry skin. The middle moisturiser is good quality turtle oil moisturiser.

Come see us — come on try these.

Special size in the ever popular Revlon Moon Drops under makeup is in girls! This is the best seller over such a wide range of skin types — it is so effective. It really should need no introduction. This delicate emulsion formulated with emollients, moisturisers and humectants protects all complexions from drying winds, weather, heat, etc., while at the same time giving a velvety smooth base over which makeup glides on evenly and effectively.

Girls, did you know that Del Hancock, noted Sydney Beauty journalist uses this product as her top favourite?

She finds it so soothing, refreshing feeling on the skin. Whenever your skin has this tight taut and dry sensation — you need Moon Drops Under Makeup.

Bye.

Ferry is back on the job

The Williamstown Short Road Ferry went back into service on Tuesday.

The ferry, which runs between Newport, behind the power station and Port Melbourne, has been out of service since July 29.

Main reason for taking the ferry out of action was to allow widening of the Yarra River mouth to allow bigger shipping into inner ports.

While it was off the run, the ferry was completely overhauled and repaired.

It resumed its run from new landings on both sides of the river, both further seawards.

It had at first been planned to provide a new landing on the Port Melbourne side only, but difficulties in making the ferry — built in 1934 — follow a curved line made a new landing on the Williamstown side necessary also.

The staff of 14 who man the ferry took leave or were employed on its maintenance during its rest.

The channel widening was to allow the P & O line's biggest container ship, the Remuera to enter the port later this year, on its maiden voyage.

The Remuera was first announced as due in September, then in early October. No approximate date is now available for its arrival.

JUNIORS LEAD

At Altona North, the juniors were the only team to play on Saturday, and already this keen young side has earned first innings points.

The visitors, Williamstown Colts A team, batted first and were bundled out for 49.

Ron Cassar got 3/10, captain Harry Hart 3/12 and Nick Boicas 2/7.

In reply North were 3/84 at stumps. Graham Brown knocked up a fine 39, Ron Cassar 20 n.o. and Nick Boicas 15 n.o.

North's side is really showing quality this year.

Coach "Spanner" Spence has given the side a seasoned approach to game.

SISTERS TOPS

Altona sisters, Robyn and Leanne Campbell, reaped rewards at the recent Highland and National Dancers' Association of Victoria championships.

Robyn won the 10-12 years metropolitan championship and the under-12 open. Leanne won the 12-14 years metropolitan championship.

Another Altona girl, Anne Heuot, was second in the under-16 metropolitan championship.

Sweeping up the floods

Heavy rain held up the High School Sports at Olympic Park during the weekend and some events were postponed.

North High School, was one of the eager workers helping to clear water from the track after the shower.

QUEST FOR BETTER SCHOOL CONDITIONS

Altona High School is running a Mister and Miss Altona Quest.

The quest is being organised to raise funds for a ground improvement plan at the school.

Each form has sponsored candidates to see which boy and girl can raise the most money.

So far, the school has conducted a 50-mile marathon on the school oval, a bike-a-thon to the You-Yangs, slave auction of students, a dance, various stalls, fancy dress party, free-dress day and an all-girls football match.

Business houses have been asked to donate prizes for the various competitions and any further donations will be welcomed.

The school had several students representing the school at Melbourne All in gaining placings. Jeanette finished second in finals on Saturday and the under 15 hurdles and two, Jeanette Black and Bill Gilpin, were successful in the 400 and 800-metre events.

Others to take part were Brenda Bowden (under 17 shot put), Maden Mitwie (triple jump) and Bruce Roberts (1500 metres).

BROWNIES HELP BLIND CHILDREN

A special thought for others theme paid off for blind children — thanks to the efforts of the Altona Brownie Unit.

The Guides visited the Royal Victorian Institute for the Blind and handed over a cheque for $100 which they had raised through guessing competitions, toffee sales, bottle drives and a poll competition.

They saw all facets of the various workshops and were able to leave justifiably proud of their efforts as they were told that their donation was the largest ever received from any club.

The unit celebrated its 12th birthday with a dress-up night, birthday cake with a ring of lamingtons around it decorated with "Pie-cleaner" Brownie figures.

The competition was won by Julie Dent.

Badges attained by unit members were Lisa Smith (footpath), Dianna Bayley (hostess), Lena Murphy (pony rider) and first-year star by Lena Murphy.

THIEVES DISTURBED: CHASED

Thieves who broke into a Spotswood home last Monday afternoon were disturbed when neighbors knocked at the door.

But not before they had found $70 in notes, as they began to systematically ransack the house.

The incident began about 3.15 p.m., at a house in The Avenue, occupied by Mr. Douglas Ridd, clerk, and his family.

When they heard the knock at the front door, the thieves fled through the back door and through several backyards.

They were chased by Mr. Arnold Stewart, of Dickens Street, Lalor, who was in The Avenue at the time, but he failed to catch them.

TPI CARDS

Members of the Footscray, Williamstown and Western Suburbs TPI social club enjoyed a card afternoon recently.

Card winners were Mrs. Higgins and Mr. L. Corbett.

Next card afternoon will be held on Thursday, November 1, at 1.30 p.m. in the Manchester Unity Hall, Footscray.

Council rethinks

An application by the Williamstown CYMS to extend its clubhouse, rejected by Williamstown council will get another hearing.

Cr. Peter Lalor moved that the Reserves Committee call a meeting of all people who use the Fearon Reserve to establish what they need in the way of clubroom facilities. The Williamstown CYMS offered to finance extensions to its clubhouse from its own resources.

TECHNICIAN

We are seeking a young man who is required to assist in the control of our High Voltage Laboratory. Setting up type tests and recording results and supplying technical information on cable for working voltages up to 33 KV.
